

THE HOME SECTOR

A WEEKLY FOR THE NEW CIVILIAN

CONDUCTED BY THE FORMER EDITORIAL COUNCIL OF The Stars and Stripes

All you Yanks who, far out at sea or in the muddy dugouts, lousy billets and chill barracks of the A. E. F., found the going a little easier because of The Stars and Stripes, will enjoy this new weekly by the same bunch, for the same bunch, in the same spirit.

The Stars and Stripes was hauled down and folded away a fortnight before the peace treaty was signed, but the men who wrote, or drew ninety per cent. of the contents of that famous soldiers' weekly have not broken ranks. They have kept close formation in their red-chevron days to conduct this new magazine.

WALLGREN is on the job with his hilarious and disorderly cartoons. BALDRIDGE, the foremost American artist of the war, is drawing for The Home Sector. There will be fresh tidings from all the old Yank sectors in France, England, Belgium and Germany, and the latest news from the front in the fight to keep America, the home sector, the best of them all.

A department called SERVICE will try to clear up the misunderstandings and doubt existing in the minds of most former service men about such details as war-risk insurance, Liberty bonds, back pay, pensions, bonuses, legislation, etc.

You will want The Home Sector, which is out every Wednesday. Get this week's issue and see. It is 10 cents a copy. $5.00 a year with a special combination offer. Every red-chevron American will want to read The Home Sector, which means that there is a wide-open opportunity for some live men who set out to earn real money by taking subscriptions. FOUND "MISSING HEIR" IN JAIL

Long Search of United States Naval Authorities Comes to an End.

WAS HELD AS FORGER

Eighteen-Year-Old Youth Boasts of Shrewd Trick Which, as He Said, "Fooled Them All for Awhile."

Green Bay, Wis.—In the state reformatory a pasty-faced, hollow-cheeked lad of eighteen paces back and forth in his cell. He is ashamed to look his countrymen in the face because he is a deserter from the United States navy. His name is Adolphe Gerds, alias Daniel H. Tolman.

He is the boy who tricked the authorities at the Great Lakes Naval Training station into believing he was the missing heir to the $4,000,000 estate of the late Daniel H. Tolman of Philadelphia.

The whereabouts of this youth, who had played tag with military and police officials throughout the United States for seven months, did not become known until a short time ago. Then it was his tongue that told his whereabouts to the world.

Confides in Cellmates. "Yep, I'm the bird you read about in the papers," he had told his cellmates. "I almost had them believing that I was the missing heir to an estate of $4,000,000 left by a loan shark in Philadelphia named Tolman. But keep it quiet."

But his mates couldn't let the story rest. The guard heard it. From the lad he forced a confession. Then authorities at the reformatory communicated with the Great Lakes Naval Training station. Naval and civil intelligence officers were sent to the institution. Then the identity was established.

Prisoner's Story. He told the officers the following story:

"I admit that I made a botch job of it at the finish, but you'll have to give me credit for fooling them for a while.

"The whole thing started in Milwaukee. I didn't have a dime in my pocket and my clothes were almost in rags. My poor old mother, who lives at 1458 Spring street, was just about living, and even though I tried hard, I couldn't help her along.

"One day a fellow stopped me on the street and told me I resembled the missing heir to a fortune. He said the heir's name was Tolman. We talked it over, schemed and planned and before the end of the week I had made my de-Says Station Was "Easy." "At Great Lakes they fell for my story. They gave me a ten-day furlough so I could go to Philadelphia and claim the fortune.

"At the end of my furlough I came back and got an extension. Then I cashed a bogus check at the station for $180. After that I threw away my uniform and forged checks in Buffalo, New York city, Washington, Detroit, and Cleveland. It was in Cleveland that they got me, for a bad check in Milwaukee.

"I was tried, convicted and here I am."

PREFERS DEATH TO PARTING

Facing Separation, Ohio Woman Kills Seven Children and Herself.

Nelsonville, O.—Several hours before authorities were to remove them to the Athens county home seven children, ranging in age from six weeks to ten years, were found with their mother, Mrs. Tony Stavlar, burned to death or asphyxiated in their home at Kimberly, a small mining town near here.

The children were tied to their beds and coal oil had been sprinkled over the room.

It is supposed that worry over the separation caused the mother to destroy herself and the children.

Her First Attempt. It was my first attempt at teaching a Sunday school class of boys, ranging from the age of 9 to 12 years. After I had done my best in teaching these youngsters and to test their attentiveness, I asked them what they would tell their mother if she was to ask them what they learned, and a red-headed youngster of about 10 years seriously replied; "Nothing."—Chicago Tribune.

Political Boundaries. "Johnny, you haven't studied your geography lesson." "Not very well," confessed the youngster. "But father says that geography is one of the most difficult and uncertain studies now before the public."

"HANG ON" FOR MANY YEARS WOULD HAVE ONE GOOD FEED

Scientists Know That Jellyfish Live Long, but "What Do They Get Out of It?"

In a recent lecture to children at the Royal Institution, London, Prof. D'Arcy W. Thompson told of a jellyfish known as Granny that was rescued by Sir John Graham Dallyell and kept alive in sea water. Granny, according to Prof. Thompson, was carefully tended by Sir John and fed regularly one-half mussel a fortnight. She thrived exceedingly under this kind attention. Six hundred of her offspring were known. On the death of Sir John she passed to the care of an artistic explorer and was bequeathed by him to another scientific man. Granny outlived four protectors and died at last, Oct. 11, 1887, at the authentic age of 47 years, because of the neglect or ill-treatment of a botanist.

Prof. Thompson did not say so, but he left it to be assumed that had the neglectful botanist been as careful and attentive as was Sir John Dallyell Granny might yet be alive, says the New York Tribune. In which case she would be no less than 98 years old, and assuming that she was at least two when Sir John found her, which seems probable, she would be well past the century mark.

How much easier it is for some folks to make their won't than it is to make their will.

Man With $700,000,000 Had Meal Fugged Out, Even to Amount Left for Walter.

"I read in the paper," said the fat plumber, "about a Columbian man who is to inherit part of $700,000,000."

"Gee," said the thin carpenter, "I'd like to be in on a fortune like that."

"What would you do if you had $700,000,000?"

"I have always wanted a lot of money and I know just what I'd do."

"Well—"

"I'd go right to the biggest hotel in New York City—"

"Yes—"

"And I'd walk right into the main dining room—"

"Yes—"

"And I'd say to the waiter: 'Bring me the best plank steak you have in the house.'"

"Uh, huh."

"And after I had eaten it I'd tell the waiter to bring me the check."

"Of course."

"I'd pay the check with my money and then I'd take my 30 cents change to tip the waiter."—Youngstown Telegram.

Too Ill to Work

Scores of Women

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."
—Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY,
426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another

Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."
—Mrs. I. OVENSTEIN, 902 S. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill.
